Celebration demonstrates the essence of communication-true communication. The work communicates to all ages, and readers find themselves increasingly tuned in, page by page, to its very special message. Here is a brief excerpt from Celebration: Tell us the sound of no name. He looked across the Darkness, now lit only by wide eyes reflecting a red moon so typical of a Sixthseason evening and feeling their reach he said: It is the sound made by the wind as it courses free and you can hear it if you listen with your heart. Seashells sing its song and the flight of Seagulls draws the paths of its boundaries. What readers are saying: This is one of the most beautiful poems I ve ever read. - Ariella Kapelner Celebration is simply, incredibly beautiful. You have really achieved something very, very fine with this piece and I m in awe-I don t think I ve ever read anything like it, and it s truly...
