While theoretical issues are key in this debate, a proper understanding of the market of banks subordinated notes and debentures (SND) and of the securities main features is also considered as relevant for the potential introduction, design, and goals setting of such a policy. This paper builds on information concerning issuers, investors, markets, and securities technical features to critically discuss these aspects. Data on over 1,800 European banks SND issues completed during the 1988-2000 period together with information on primary and secondary market functioning is presented.
