Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Birds and All Nature in Natural Serial, Vol. 6: A Monthly Serial And such a pretty proprietary air - the complacence and importance for which great possessions are often answerable! As if the trees were there for her alone, the garden made simply for her convenience! After working rapidly for two full hours she paused to rest upon a dead twig, opening and closing her wings in the twinkling fashion of a bluebird, an exercise prefacing a breakfast taken in the nearest tree as she poised beneath the leaves. With appetite appeased she dropped upon the unfinished cradle and sat so still for twenty minutes that I was certain an egg was deposited. Doubtless the misfortunes attending previous nesting had interrupted the even tenor of life, the second housekeeping was more urgent than was anticipated. For ten minutes more her form was motionless though her head moved from side to side in a ceaseless surveillance - a warbler lurching in the next tree glanced casually in her direction, and was evidently just wild with curiosity. The situation was too much for him; he left his post hurriedly, flew over her and looked down, flew under and looked up, peered at her from an airy poise, still undecided as to who was rocking in that wonderful cradle. Craning his neck he hopped along the branch till he stood beside her, so near that his yellow coat literally brushed her garments, his attitude a quick pantomime of his thoughts, half paralyzed with questioning surprise as to what this remnant of a bird might be, not by any means to be bought cheap because it was a remnant...
